

Ms. Sikta Biswas

Assistant Professor in English
Department of Applied Sciences and Humanities

Qualification :

MA in English (1995); MPhil in English (2009)

Research Interest :Indian English Literature

The proposed research work is an attempt to make a thematic study of the fictional works by Amitav Ghosh and a revelation of the pattern inherent therein. Journeys are important part of Ghosh's fictional work. Amitav Ghosh , the anthropologist, is the most cosmopolitan among the Indian contemporary writers. In his travelogue In An Antique Land he combines history with a very contemporary vision of a world free of discrete cartographical divisions. His prime thematic concern is using the travel motif to create a neutral space where barriers dissolve and borders are blurred.

Academic Experience :

16 years

Administrative Responsibility

- (i) Member of Exam Cell
- (ii) Mentor of NPTEL Courses